

Call Me Evil (Tymur's Song)

C G F em
When I was eight, I touched a scroll that held a demon's soul.
am G C dm C G E
From that day on, my life was changed: I feel it made me whole.
C G F E
I do not feel what others feel, such things as grief or pain, am G C dm H7 E7
but still I find much joy in life, like leaving bodies slain.

am G am
So if you call me evil
G am
You're absolutely right.
G C dm
But mind that you don't mention it
C E7
If I'm in line of sight.
am C
For once I've got you on my list
dm E7
I'll come for you at night:
am G C dm
Though there's a noose around my neck,
am E am
It never will draw tight.

I wear my mask, my handsome face, so folks like me around.
I chitter-chatter pleasantly, joke that I'll ne'er be crowned,
Since I was born the youngest son, fifth prince of princes five.
And yet my brothers better run before I take their live.

So if you call me evil
You're absolutely right.
But mind that you don't mention it
If I'm in line of sight.
For once I've got you on my list
I'll come for you at night:
Though there's a noose around my neck,
It never will draw tight.

My dream's to slay the sorceress who can't bleed or be killed:
One needs ambitious goals in live to make sure one grows skilled.
She is the only one to tell if truly I'm possessed
So I'll make sure that no one knows, and killing is the best.

So if you call me evil
You're absolutely right.
But mind that you don't mention it
If I'm in line of sight.
For once I've got you on my list
I'll come for you at night:
Though there's a noose around my neck,
It never will draw tight.

I'm gathering a band of goons to set out on my quest
And have them quarrel day and night about who loves me best.
Just to make sure they'll never see what lurks behind my eyes
For the first one to call me out will be the next who dies.

So if you call me evil
You're absolutely right.
But mind that you don't mention it
If I'm in line of sight.
For once I've got you on my list
I'll come for you at night:
Though there's a noose around my neck,
It never will draw tight.
